10% BACK CREDIT OFFER

To celebrate HotelTonight's expansion to letting you book up to 7 days in advance, anyone who books a hotel room in advance from September 26th until October 31st will get 10% back in HT credits that can be used on a future booking.

How to redeem this offer?

It's easy. Just book a hotel room on the HotelTonight app in advance (bookings for a stay that starts the following day or later - not same-day bookings) and we will automatically credit 10% of the value of the room rate (rounded to the nearest dollar) to your account in the form of HT credits that can be used on a future booking. You can book and receive credits as many times as you want - there is no limit on how many times you can participate in this offer during the promotional period.

No one likes fine print but fine print we must:

Only advance bookings are eligible (same-day bookings are excluded from this offer)

Credits are based on the total amount charged to your credit card for the booking and do not include credits you apply toward the booking. For example, if the total is $150 but you use $30 in HT credits, you would receive $12 in HT credits (10% of $120)

Credits will be rounded to the nearest dollar. For example, if your credit card charge for the booking is $94.00, you would receive $9 in HT credits, but if your credit card charge for the booking is $98.00, you would receive $10 in HT credits.

Credits can be used for any future booking until they expire (credits expire one year from the date you made the booking that earned the credit)

Consistent with our Terms of Use, this offer and your credits may only be used for personal and non-commercial purposes
